What is the Teen Advisory Council (TAC)

The Ohio 4-H Teen Advisory Council (TAC) is the highest youth decision-making and advisement body in the state's 4-H program. Select teens from across the state work together to improve Ohio 4-H programming, administration, and relevance to youth in today's society through cooperation with State 4-H leaders, active support of new and innovative 4-H programming, and advocacy for 4-H and youth issues. The TAC's officers establish and moderate the agenda for the Council membership with the support of the TAC advisor and associate advisors. There are mandatory trainings and meetings at the beginning of and throughout the year, but TAC members can influence the scheduling of most TAC meetings, conference calls, and activities.
