Make it a Project (optional activity)

Your efforts in this officer position can be turned into a project by completing the requirements for a self-determined project. Every self-determined project requires the 4-H member to identify and complete areas of interest and related activities, learning experiences, leadership/citizenship activities, and a brief report. Just like other projects, self-determined projects can be reviewed and are eligible for fair participation. 4-H News Reporter

Welcome

Congratulations on your new role as your 4-H club's news reporter. Your club has bestowed upon you both an honor and a responsibility—and an interesting and fun job! You will find a list of responsibilities for your office as well as activities, ideas, and websites in this book to help you fulfill your duties. Good luck!

An Officer's Role in the Club

Serving as a club officer means you are part of a team. The team's responsibility is to hold a club meeting that is both well-run and fun. The officers should meet with their club advisor prior to the meeting so that they are prepared for the meeting and to help the club make decisions.

Your Role as a News Reporter

You are being given the opportunity to raise awareness about the 4-H program in your county—the work your members are doing, the fun your club members are having, and the help your members are giving to the community. And, as a 4-H club officer, you represent your club, your county, and the 4-H program throughout Ohio.

As the club's news reporter, you will:

- Submit announcements for events planned by your club, as appropriate
- Prepare a news article after each meeting, event, or activity, and submit it to the news media in a timely manner
- Keep a notebook with all your written articles and related clippings from the newspaper

Getting Started

News Story Format

- The first time you refer to a person, use their full name (and title if appropriate).
- The next time you refer to a person under age 18, refer to them by their first name. The next time you refer to a person age 18 and over, refer to them by their last name.
- Write in the third person. This means you use the words he, she, him, her, they, them – NOT the words I or you or we.
- Use simple language. Don't use a long word when a short word will do. Sentences should be short and easy to read. Paragraphs should contain no more than two or three sentences.

The 5 Ws and the H of News

The important parts of a news story are the five Ws and the H. Explain each one and your story is complete!

WHO is the story about?

WHAT is the story about?

WHEN will (did) it happen?

WHERE will (did) it happen?

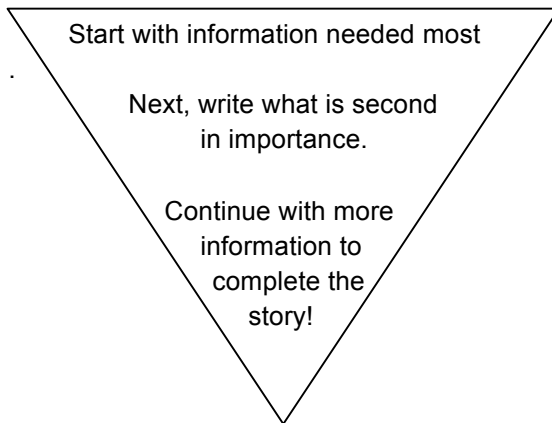

WHY will (did) it happen?

HOW will (did) it happen?

And, these facts must be accurate! Check and re-check names, titles, dates, times, costs, etc.

The Upside-Down Pyramid Format

The Upside-down Pyramid format puts the facts in “news order” so that the story starts with the most critical information that the reader needs and works down from there.

The first paragraph should contain enough information to give a good overview of the entire story.

The rest of the story explains and provides additional information.

You must assume that the story might be cut due to space limitations, so ask yourself if the story is satisfactory if the editor decides to include only the first two paragraphs. If not, rearrange it so that it does!

News Reporter Duties

Contact Your Local Newspaper

Ask to speak with the staff person to whom you will be submitting your news stories, or “copy,” and request detailed instructions on how copy is to be submitted, such as:

- Electronically – be sure to get the e-mail address.
- Hard copy – does it need to be typed or is handwritten copy acceptable?
- What photo formats are acceptable?

Write Club Meeting Reports

- Write club meeting reports like a news article in paragraph form—not like a secretary’s report with bullet items.
- Keep the article interesting and brief.
- Avoid slang and abbreviations.
- Begin your article, or “lead with,” the most important part of the meeting.

Photographs Help Tell the Story

The old saying that a picture is worth a thousand words is accurate! A photograph can draw the readers to the story because a picture draws the eyes and then the reader wants to know the story behind the picture.

Follow these rules of thumb with pictures:

- All persons in the photograph should be clearly identified, front to back, left to right.
- Check and re-check the spelling of names of persons in each photograph.
- All persons should have given permission to use their photographs.
- Submit photographs to the newspaper in the required format (usually JPG files) along with your article. At the bottom of the article, indicate the name of the photograph file you are submitting.

More Tips

- Your story must be current. Submit your story within a few days of the event or activity.
- Write your copy objectively. You must remain completely impartial.

- Add authority to a story with quotations. “We’re really excited about this competition,” said advisor Bob Heart. “It’s the highest target we’ve ever set for ourselves.”
- Check and re-check your story before you submit it. It is critical that the story is completely accurate, with all names and other information spelled correctly.
- Correct information in a story you have already submitted if it has changed or is not correct. Call the newspaper immediately so the information can be corrected. It is important to report changes so that readers will not be inconvenienced by incorrect information.
- Submit your story, then watch the newspaper closely. Once the story appears, clip it carefully and collect each one for your record book or as part of the club scrapbook.

Where else can you publicize 4-H?

Talk these ideas over with your advisor and your extension educator.

- Offer to tape radio public service announcements during Ohio 4-H Week and National 4-H Week.
- Offer to assist in working on the county 4-H newsletter.
- Offer to work with your extension educator on producing special pages in the newspaper during Ohio 4-H Week.
- Write a letter to the editor during Ohio 4-H Week, telling how much you enjoy the 4-H program.
