2013 4-H Dairy Judging News Release

The Ohio 4-H team brought home several honors from the National 4-H Dairy Judging Contest at World Dairy Expo! Although they did not earn the 1st place award for high team overall, they were the high team in placings beating out the 2nd place group by 25 points. That was an accomplishment that should be recognized. Long before reasons, the ability to see cattle is of the upmost importance.

Team members included Heath Geyer (Shelby County), Colton Harstine (Tuscarawas County), Cody Jodrey and Cory Jodrey (Brown County). The team was high in Holsteins, 3rd in Guernseys and finished 7th overall out of 26 teams competing. Colton was 8th in placings and Cory was 2nd in his placings. They finished 14th and 19th respectively over all. Heath was 9th in the Jersey division and Cody was second in Holsteins and Colton in 6th place.

Way to go boys...the only all male team at the contest!
