

Step-by-Step Registration for the 2020 4-H Celebration of Youth

The event is free for the first time ever but you must register.

1. Visit 4HCOY.givesmart.com. The landing page looks like this:

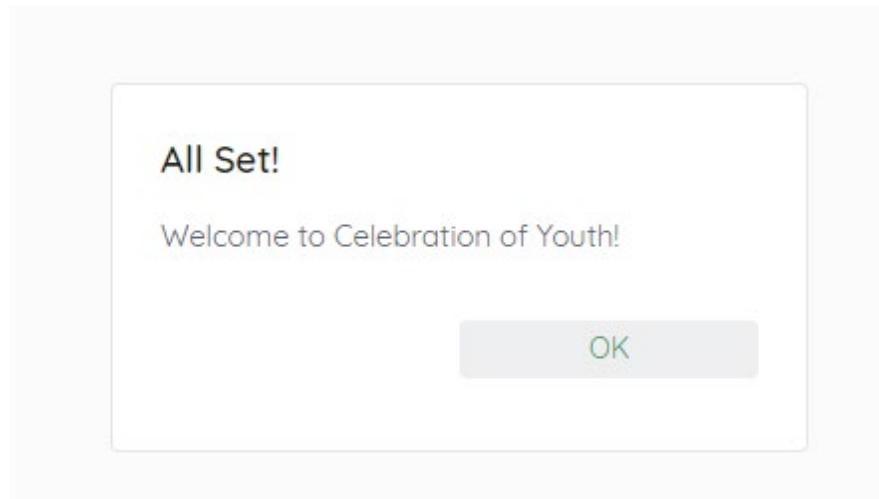

2. Next, you'll click "Register Now." This button is in the red square on the above image.

3. This will bring you to the registration page that looks like this:

4. Create a username and password that you can remember. You will need this information again later to bid on auction items. Fill out all of the required information and click “Create my GiveSmart account” when finished. This button is in the red box on the image below.

5. After you've created your account, you will receive this confirmation.

6. Congratulations – you are now registered to participate in this year's Celebration of Youth! You will receive notifications when auction items are available to view, when bidding starts, information to join the event on November 5th, and other event details.
